Work Plan No. C.02-01: Paratransit Software Business Case Justification

Scope:

BART has been utilizing a paratransit software for over a decade that allows them to certify users, reserve them a ride, schedule the vehicle, dispatch the vehicle and other functions. As the paratransit industry has evolved, this has included not only the service functions and features being offered but also the tools the users can use to access information. This work plan entails looking at the current state of software and performing an industry review to evaluate a business justification for BART to decide if they should continue with the current software or procure a new software.
